Marco Passerini

VP Marketing & WW Operations
RES srl
http://www.res-it.com/en

Description

RES Srl - Research for Enterprise Systems is an Italian company that, since 1987, has specialized in development and sales of software, services and consultancy in Enterprise Management. For thirty years RES has followed a process of evolution, developing IT strategies, optimizing performance, identifying and incorporating changing market trends, in support of its clients in the detailed work of continuous improvement of Information Systems Management.The Res Suite products (sold in many countries by local resellers / distributors) are characterized by high levels of customization and modularity which can be tailored to respond to any need for Process Engineering, System Governance, Quality Assurance and Data Quality & Management.

Organization Type

Micro and Small Company

Phone

+393357474394

Email

marco.passerini@res-it.com

Country

Italy

City

Milano, viale Piero e Alberto Pirelli, 6 Google map

Areas of Activities

Industrial maintenance

Request

Looking for a commercial partner: reseller / distributor of the RES Suite software tools

The Res Suite is a cross-platform software technology that nowadays is considered a standard for the Italian IT companies. It is comprised of complimentary and independent synergetic products that are supported by a single database around which the entire solution set is focused: it collects very detailed information about the IT software asset and makes it available for automatic solutions like: systems governance, operations, automation, quality control, engineering of applications software and data management.

The RES Suite tools ensure and automates the optimization of the processes, management and governance for all the IT areas, including Strategic Direction and IT Management, Change Management and Quality Assurance, Application Management, Facility Management, Data & Data Quality Management